11. 12 Dive Bars With Kara

Rules, To qualify as a dive bar, Kara nor I have ever been to it. It should have locals, bikers, a pool table and dart board. A great name is also required. Added bonus if there is police tape visible or no credit cards accepted.

1. Beey's Cabin - Mt. View January 5 locals, locals, locals,

2. The Bitter End San Francisco January 11. The homeless guy just picked up the butt off the ground. He was only wearing one shoe.

3. February 22, Blinky's Cant Say, located in downtown Santa Clara. Nice dive bar. We watched the olympics.

4. - 3/23, Rex's Bar Yreka CA, lots of locals. Very cheap drinks. Added benefit of the skull in the back ground with the miners lamp. Bar Tender was very young and talking about her 2nd husband.

5. 3/23 Minors Street Pub, Yreka Lots of locals. Located right across the street from Rex's. Sunday nights in Yreka is a happening place.

6. 3/29/14 - The Escape... A great way to spend a rainy saturday morning. We were the only ones in the bar. Had a great Blood Mary.

7. 4/14/14, The Turkey Inn. Still in Ramona but a great dive bar. I had to ask the bartender 4 times for my bill. Lots of locals and you could still smell cigarette smoke in the building. Added bonus, when we went into the bar, they were playing christmas carols.

8 .May 18, The Marmist, This place was full of people who are coming back from church. You can't see into the bar because there is a wall between the customers and the outside world. The 90 year old woman chewing on a chicken leg was very appealing.

9. May 23, The Cardiff, Kara and I did a pub crawl in Campbell. At round 6:00 there were several drunk young people enjoying the hospitality including having the ability to throw a beer bottle across the bar. Of course he did offer to pay for the beer.

10. June 14, Hotel Utah in San Francisco. We were in San Francisco to watch Christian Bergman pitch his second game against SF Giants. Hotel Utah was a great dive bar with excellent burgers.

11. June 28, Kara, Ted and Annie were in Monterey for the CRRC conference. This was a classic dive bar and I even got a stranger to buy me a drink. No sexual favors were exchanged.

12. July 6, The Caravan located across from Kara's work in downtown San Jose. It was the most divvy of dive bars. The faint smell of backed up sewer reminded us, why we like nice bars. One of the best things about the bar was the TV. They were watching a Bar Makeover show.

12. Pee on the Berlin Wall - 3/5/14 Las Vegas

Mr Bantillo introduced me to this bucket list item. The Berlin Wall is located at the Main Street Station Casino. It was worth the trip to Vegas just to do this. My photos of the wall sucked, so I stole this from the internet.
